History

Juhani is a member of the cat-like race, the Cathar, known for their fiery emotions. She feels as though she can't control her emotions, though the player can give her an emotional boost by telling her that she can. The player first meets her as the final trial before the player can join the Jedi order; Juhani has turned to the darkside, believing that she killed her own Master. When first encountered, the player can choose to kill Juhani instead of redeem her, thus negating her as a member of the player's party.

Juhani's character was originally planned to be called Bastila Shan, and this name is seen on early concept art. However, when the developers decided not to use Vima Sunrider as one of the main characters, the female human Jedi, the name Bastila Shan was used for the new character created to replace Sunrider. The Cathar Jedi was then called Juhani, and this name made it into the final game.
