

Weekly RPG News

Written by amiah

Sunday, 05 November 2006 10:12 - Last Updated Thursday, 01 November 2007 21:54

As of now, RPG news will be posted weekly, to inform everyone on its progress, updates, in-game events, etc.

This week many new rules have been written concerning the RPG. Basically, the legal business system has been set up. Some highlights include:

- Players will now have the ability to create their own stores!
- There is a limit to the amount of mining installations a player can have and no one can attack or destroy them or steal its produce.
- A new, more effective, crafting system is in place.

To read up on all the rules and updates please check the RPG news section of the forums.