Computer Spike

These items allow a user to slice computer programs, assaulting systems with garbage data to overwhelm security measures. They are one-use items. A high Computer Use skill reduces the number of spikes required for any given task.

Parts

This is a disposable package of universally adaptable parts, designed for characters using the Repair skill in machines. Each pack is a one-use item. A high Repair skill reduces the number of parts required for any given task.

Security Spike

This one-use item improves the user's ability to bypass security measures, creating electronic interference in the locking mechanisms of doors and containers.

Security Spike Tunneler

This one-use item employs anti-encryption software and electronic interference to improve the user's ability to bypass locking mechanisms on doors and containers.
